

A Whimsical Pair in "Dulcy"

Gregory Kelly and Norma Lee

BEGINNING TODAY
The Eminent Character Actor

George Arliss

in a photodramatic version of his wonderful stage success

"Disraeli"

Directed by HENRY KOLKER

No role in the theatre during our time is so intimately and inevitably associated with any star as "Disraeli" is with George Arliss. For five years this distinguished actor portrayed the brilliant British prime minister behind the footlights, and the screen version of his stage masterpiece shows him at his best.

FOR A FEW PRESENTATIONS ONLY

To the Public:

With pride of achievement, the announcement is made to you that the first performance of DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "THE THREE MUSKETEERS" will take place at the Lyric Theatre next Sunday (August 28th), at 8:30 P. M. sharp. This will be the world premiere of one of the most remarkable and most pretentious photoplay adaptations ever made of a real classic of adventure, romance, chivalry and courage.

The sale of seats will open at the box office next Thursday at 10 A. M. The tremendous demand for tickets for the opening performance, and the earnest desire of the management to protect the public, make necessary the ruling that ONLY TWO SEATS WILL BE SOLD TO ANY ONE PERSON for the opening performance.

Mail orders will be filed and filled in the order of their receipt.
